Upland students bound for UN

Conferences with United Nations delegates from oil-rich Kuwait and a reception hosted by the U.N. Secretariat are in store for a group of Cal State, San Bernardino students in New York this month. Frank Remo of Upland is scheduled to make the trek.

The students, political science and economics majors, will join an estimated 1500 from other American colleges at the 48th annual Model United Nations April 16 through 21.

Funds for the trip are being raised by the Cal State International Club. Campus organizations have made contributions and a fund-raising dinner is scheduled for Saturday, April 13.

Frances Willis, of Redlands, a retired career diplomat and former U.S. ambassador to Ceylon, will speak at the event. The public is invited to the $15 a plate prime rib banquet, which will be held at the Plantation Restaurant in San Bernardino.

At the Model U.N., each school assumes the role of one nation in meetings which simulate the actual workings of the international body.

Cal State chose Kuwait, a small country located on the Persian gulf, largely because of its current economic importance.

Kuwait's position as a major exporter of oil in the world market affects its position far beyond its size," stated the leader of the local delegation, Randy Ericson of San Bernardino, International Club president.

Other students who will attend are Louis Fazzi, Victorville; William Freeman, Fontana; Deborah Kirkland, Rialto; and Barry Kayrell of San Bernardino.

Coffee shop groundbreaking held here

Groundbreaking ceremonies were held Tuesday for a coffee shop addition to the Uplander Motor Hotel in Upland, announced Ron Hamer, owner and general manager.

The coffee shop, when completed in late July, will have a seating capacity of 49 plus a poolside patio with additional seating for people to enjoy the hotel garden setting.

Present plans call for the Uplander Coffee Shop to open at 6 a.m. "The menu will be simple, the price reasonable, and the service prompt," said Hamer.

Kitchen facilities in the new coffee shop are designed to meet the needs of hotel and community for banquets and receptions that are held at the hotel.

"Now we can provide full hotel services to all kinds of business conferences or group meetings at good competitive prices," added Hamer.

In addition to the construction of the coffee shop a new house-keeping lounge and a laundry are being built on the west side of the hotel grounds. Additional Conference rooms are being designed to meet the needs of "smaller executive groups."

Architects for the project are Nyberg and Bessner of Pasadena. Contractor is Bill Van Iwaanden of Temple City.

Questions of special importance to that country are currently being studied by the CSCSB students, including the Middle East situation, economic questions related to trade and tariffs and apartheid in South Africa and Rhodesia.

Each student is rolled in a five-unit independent study course. "U.N. Internship," and will write a paper on the research done for the experience.

The Model U.N. will meet in the United Nations building and in the Statler Hilton Hotel, where the Cal State group will stay.

Further information on the fund-raising banquet and reservations may be obtained by phoning the political science office at California State College, San Bernardino, 887-6311, extension 328.

Alternates are Joseph Quaranta and Bennie Beverly, Riverside; and Joan Weiser, Tony Weathers and Andrew Butts of San Bernardino.

The representatives were chosen on the basis of scholastic standing, articulation and internationally related courses they have taken. Selections were made by department chairman: Dr. Brij Khare, political science; Dr. Clifford T. Paynton, sociology and Dr. Kaoru Takata, sociology; in cooperation with the International Club executive committee. Dr. Takata is also advisor to the student organization.

In their conferences with the official Kuwait delegation, the Cal State student will endeavor to gain their viewpoints, which they will express at the Model U.N. meetings.

California Jam: peaceful

Every season has its rock concert. Every concert its superlative.

Saturday's rock concert—billed as the California Jam—at Ontario Motor Speedway?

In a word: peaceful.

More than 200,000 attended the 12-hour concert and except for traffic problems police reported few law enforcement difficulties.

"We're always glad to get something like this over, but I think this was about as orderly as you could expect for this kind of event," Ontario Police Lt. Luther Franks said.

Drugs—marijuana, in particular—were in general use among the concert crowd but only a few persons were arrested on drug charges, he said. No violence was reported.

Local police officials reported 25 arrests on charges ranging from nudity and drunkenness to possession of a deadly weapon.

Overall, though, the concert crowd was orderly—in sharp contrast to the rock concert in Altamont several years ago that erupted in violence and left one youth dead.

However, the California Highway Patrol reported that about 700 cars were towed away to various West End-Pomona Valley cities. Hundreds of others were ticketed for illegal parking but were not towed away.

Cars towed away, for the most part, were those abandoned along the shoulder of the San Bernardino Freeway, the CHP said.

So many cars were impounded, in fact, that officers had no time to write citations, said one spokesman. Vehicles owners will have to pay only for the towing fee—about $15.

With an estimated gross of about $2 million, California Jam is the most financially successful of the major rock concerts.

Easter egg hunt slated

The Upland Recreation Department will be holding an Easter Egg hunt in Memorial Park around the Atwood Kitchen area Sunday, April 14 at 1:30 p.m.

Upland children ages two through six years are invited to hunt Easter eggs, participate in making Easter baskets and other planned activities. Supervisors for the activity are Sue Baker and Margaret Heer.

Scholarship semi-finalists named here

Three Upland High School seniors were named as semi-finalists for four-year college scholarships sponsored by Southern California Edison Co., announced Don Smith, division manager for the electric utility.

The local students from Edison's Eastern Division who were named semi-finalists and will continue in the scholarship competition are:

Douglas W. Larson; Pete M. Soelter; and Chris K. Vonkahr, all of Upland.

The purpose of the Edison Scholarships is to honor two outstanding high school seniors in Central and Southern California and to provide financial assistance to attend their choice of one of 25 participating local private colleges and universities," Smith said.

NEW FIREMAN — Los Angeles County Fire Chief Richard H. Houts, right, congratulates new fireman Donnie R. Moore of Upland upon completion of six weeks training at the Department's Academy.

Upland man new LA County fireman

Donnie R. Moore of Upland was among 29 men recently graduated from the Los Angeles County Fire Department's Training Academy.

Moore was presented the badge of a fireman by Fire Chief Richard H. Houts.

"You have just launched into a career in which you are dedicated to serve the people," said Houts. "Never forget that men, women and children will depend upon you to save their homes and themselves, from destruction by fire."

The men completed six weeks intensive training in fire department fundamentals, including first aid and rescue procedures.

"Your training will continue throughout your career," said the Chief. "We live in a world of changing technology which includes new materials, chemicals and products which often are highly flammable. It will be your job to help prevent fires as well as to extinguish them."

Gas retailers take 'case' to supervisors

County supervisors listened but did little else to help the gasoline retailers in the county who are complaining about the recently adopted ordinance making price signing mandatory.

Jerry Wilson, representing the Gasoline Retailers Association, presented a petition with signatures of 75 station operators protesting the price posting regulation. "We feel in being required to post the price of gasoline we are not allowed to compete," he said, in stressing that prices are governed by what the wholesaler charge the retailer and these can vary by as much as a dime a gallon across the street.

"We are caught between the public and the government," Wilson said in asking that the ordinance be rescinded.

Supervisor James L. Mayfield, who originally proposed and pushed the law through the board, objected strenuously to rescinding it but did agree some amendments may be necessary to solve certain situations arising from its passage and enforcement.

Supervisor Dennis Hansberger recommended that San Bernardino County follow Riverside County's plan of having stations fly different colored flags to indicate whether or not they have gasoline available. "Information on gasoline availability is more important than pricing information," the supervisor declared.

Supervisor Robert O. Townsend commented he understands the gasoline crunch will soon be over and that there will be more than enough supply to meet demand. Wilson agreed with Townsend's observation and urged that stations be allowed to go back to "free enterprise."

The supervisors referred the problem to county counsel and the consumer department to work out a recommendation for later board action.

Year-round plan still under study

The Alta Loma High School Community Advisory Council Thursday night discussed but reached no decision on a recommendation to implement a year-round school program.

The Year-Round School Committee urged the advisory council to recommend to the Chaffey district administration and board of trustees that Alta Loma High School be instructed to move toward implementation of a year-round schedule, with a target beginning date of July 1, 1975.

The committee said that a year-round school, with an equal number of students of each session, can accommodate more students on a given campus than a traditional schedule can.

For example, the committee said, on a four-quarter year, the capacity of a 1,500-student school can be increased to 2,000.

The committee said that if a year-round program is adopted, a four-quarter plan would best fit Alta Loma High School's needs.

Under a four-quarter plan, students would attend school for three quarters and have the fourth quarter off.

The committee said the four-quarter plan coordinates well with college quarter plans and the 45-15 plan, which is the most common year-round schedule on the elementary level.

The committee also said the 60-day sessions of a four-quarter plan seem to be a better length for instructional purposes than the 45-day sessions of a trimester plan.

The four-quarter plan also coordinates reasonably well with the traditional school year, should feeder schools choose to remain as they are now, the committee said.

The committee said one of the biggest jobs in "tooling up" for a year-round schedule would be the change over to quarter courses. Much work would be required from the staff and liberal funding for curriculum development would be required, the committee said.

However, the committee said, the Alta Loma High School facility is adaptable to a year-round program with major cost, but operating costs will increase slightly more than the increase of student body.

SANBAG won't take position on bikeway plan

The executive director of the San Bernardino Associated Governments failed this week in a second effort to get that body's directors to support his proposed bikeway planning finance plan.

The stage has been set for a full debate on the bikeway issue on April 17, when representatives from all county cities and the board of supervisors will participate in a SANBAG general assembly meeting.

Wesley C. McDaniel, SANBAG executive director, has been seeking support for a proposal to raise $50,000 for county-wide bikeway planning. The funds would come from a 1 per cent gas tax revenue contribution from cities and the county.

Upland City Councilman John McCarthy, a SANBAG board member, said he felt the board should take a neutral stance and let all the county's cities decide such an important funding issue at the upcoming general membership meeting.

Others at the Wednesday meeting, however, expressed opposition to the bikeway proposal.

Supervisor Dennis L. Hansberger said, "I don't think bikeways have the same kind of benefit to our constituents as do other forms of transportation."

W. R. Holcomb, mayor of San Bernardino, however, supported the executive director. "Sure we're spread thin, but we have an obligation to lay plans that are going to live far beyond our times," Holcomb commented.

Some board members have questioned whether further bikeway studies are needed. With the county and local governments already having preliminary bikeway plans, wouldn't SANBAG planning actions constitute a "study of a study?" They questioned.

of regional bikeways will be financed.

McDaniel proposed contracting with the County Regional Parks Department for $15,000 worth of staff help to expand and refine the county's regional bikeway plan. Another $10,000 should be held in reserve, he said, for legal studies, financial planning and surveying and mapping expenses.

The remaining $25,000 could provide SANBAG staff assistance to the East Valley, West Valley and Mountain Desert Planning Agencies.

Pesticide mill fees announced

SAN BERNARDINO — Roy F. Camblin, San Bernardino County Agricultural Commissioner, announced that the county's share of the $1,892,081.50 in pesticide mill fees collected by the state last year will be $17,871.73.

From January 1 through June 30, 1973, the money collected was at the rate of eight mills per dollar of sales by pesticide manufacturers. From July 1 through December 31, 1973, the rate was six mills per dollar of sales by pesticide manufacturers. Camblin explained, "Five-eighths of this, or $1,057,550.94, is being returned to the counties as partial reimbursement for their expenditures on pesticide regulation and enforcement programs. The remaining three-eighths, he added, will be retained by the State Department of Food and Agriculture to cover the costs of evaluating these programs and to review pesticides for compliance with public and environmental safety standards."

Camblin said that the pesticide manufacturers mill tax program was authorized by the state legislature in 1971, and that this is the second year refunds have been made.

Camblin added that the additional revenue will help relieve the financial burden of the county due to expansion of the county's pesticide enforcement programs.

Alcoholism council

Dinner-dance benefit to finance programs

The Auxiliary of the Alcoholism Council of East San Gabriel and Pomona Valleys will hold a dinner-dance on April 21 at the Santa Fe Inn, 10478 Valley Blvd., El Monte, from 5 to 9 p.m. Dottie Thierfelder is chairman of the event.

The program is being given to raise money for more films and literature for educational programs given by the council in schools and colleges.

In March, talks and film showings on alcoholism were presented to over 3,500 students.

The council, a voluntary health agency, has 157 volunteers giving time to the council operation. They serve as counselors, speakers, board members and clerical workers.

The goal of the council is two-fold. One is in the area of prevention through information and education at the community level. The second is in counseling alcoholics and their families. There is no treatment of any kind given at the council, but clients are counseled to the point of referral to treatment, gaining help in understanding the nature of the problem, and being referred to the appropriate source of help. A two-month follow-up is done with each client, with three council appointments to insure a good start in the suggested program.

In 1973 the council handled 1,561 clients in the office, and took 7,080 phone calls for help, information, requests for literature and speakers.

These statistics will triple, or more, in 1974, says Mrs. Pauline Buxton, executive director of the council.

The council, serving as the voluntary arm of Los Angeles County Alcohol Safety Action Project (ASAP), also serves the entire community.

The council works closely with the three judicial systems of El Monte, Citrus and Pomona Courts. The drunk driving cases are referred to some form of educational or rehabilitational program.

An affiliate of the National Council on Alcoholism, and the Alcoholism Council of Greater Los Angeles, the council opened offices in the Home Savings Building in West Covina on Oct. 9, 1972.

Volunteer training meetings are held once a month, and on the job training is a daily affair.

License fee refunds set for county

State Controller Houston I. Flournoy today announced the semiannual apportionment among counties, cities and school districts of $6,175,384 in trailer coach license fees collected during the last six months of 1973.

San Bernardino County's share was $335,271.46. The largest apportionment was $715,271 to Los Angeles County. The smallest was $109 to Alpine County.

The Vehicle License Fee law provides that the license fees paid on all trailer coaches registered in California be apportioned semi-annually to the counties on the basis of the registered addresses of the vehicles. Apportionments are made as soon as possible after the registration data is made available to the Controller by the Department of Motor Vehicles.

Each County Auditor then distributes the total county apportionment among the county, the city (if the address is within a city) and the school districts in which each trailer is situated. Distribution is in accordance with a formula prescribed by State law.

UFO's not out of sight writer says

Are benevolent beings from interstellar space using earth's solar system as a base?

Science fiction writer Dorothy Fontana, who has written scripts for the television series "Star Trek," thinks this theory may offer an explanation for UFO sightings.

Dorothy, who spoke to Montclair High School students Thursday, said that four percent of the UFO sightings cannot be explained by military investigators.

"I'd say there's something up there," she said.

Dorothy acknowledged that proof of the existence of UFO's would scare some people.

She said this "is one reason why the stories on UFO's are almost always slanted toward denying them or pooh poohing them."

But, she said, "Movies like '2001' have geared people toward looking to the sky and saying, 'Hey, there just could very well be life out there.'"

"They (the space beings) could be more intelligent than we are," Dorothy said. Possibly they're not. They could have advanced in a different way. They may not look like us at all but I think we are more geared now to accepting that fact." She said, however, that she didn't think the government was quite aware that most people would say that intelligent life may exist in outer space.

"Twenty years ago, they wouldn't have said that," she said.

But, she said, "Science fiction writers have always thought that there must be life in outer space) because the galaxy is just too darn big not to have that possibility."

The UFO's that have been sighted "are not coming from this solar system," Dorothy said, adding that "beings from interstellar space may be using our solar system as a base."

"I don't think that anyone is necessarily malevolent just because they happen to stop over and see how we're doing. Obviously, they haven't bothered us for X number of years (and) they haven't hurt anybody as far as we know. That points to their being benevolent rather than malevolent," Dorothy said.

However, she said that such beings would have to have a technology that is far better than ours because those UFO's that have been sighted have demonstrated great maneuverability at extremely high speeds that even the best U.S. jet planes can't match.

Dorothy said this great maneuverability indicates that the UFO's must have some kind of anti-gravity so that their astronauts are not affected by the gravity forces which would cause a jet pilot to black out. "Obviously, their technology must be very high," she said.

As to the future of the U.S. space exploration program, Dorothy said she was "positive that we would explore our own solar system and that we will have flights to Pluto."

She said that "it's possible that within the next 50 years, if not sooner, we could have an experimental or scientific colony on Mars."

Getting ready for Easter

The right way to boil eggs

The right selection of eggs and cooking method are important considerations for the Easter egg ceremony. Eggs with white shells will dye a truer color than brown shells, but the brown shells can give a "mod" effect that can be appealing. Grade A eggs will peel easier than the AA grade. A freshly laid egg will not peel easily.

You may want to use the Easter eggs in the following week's meals. Rubbery whites and greenish yolks can be avoided by cooking the eggs properly. Mary Roberts, home adviser, University of California, Agricultural Extension Service, San Bernardino County, offers the following method for hard-cooking eggs:

Put the eggs in a deep saucepan. Cover the eggs with cold water. Bring the water to a boil. When you hear the eggs bounce on the bottom of the pan turn off the heat and let the eggs remain in the boiling water 20 minutes (at an altitude of 3,000 to 5,000 feet leave the eggs in the boiling water for 30 minutes). Drain off the hot water and run cold water over the eggs. Chill the eggs as quickly as possible to prevent a green ring from forming on the yolk surface. This discoloration comes from the sulfur and iron compounds in the egg and forms when eggs are overcooked.

Following Easter, you can "disguise" the eggs and not waste any of the good protein:

In packed lunches, make egg salad sandwiches. A whole egg is a nutritious addition.

—As a garnish, chop or slice hard cooked eggs for cooked vegetables, green salads, and macaroni or potato salads.

—In a main dish, place a sliced egg on toast. Top with Spanish, Creole, or cream sauce.

Crisis hits men's clothing

The times we live in are having a profound effect on men's clothing.

The energy crisis has brought increasing purchases of warmer indoor clothes, and the rising cost of living has brought fierce resistance from the male consumers to increased prices. The mood is somber and it has brought a new "depression look" of somber browns and grays, elbow patches and minimal decoration.

Throughout the fashion world the recent trend toward conservative dress has increased and men now buy clothing they know will remain in fashion for years to come. The conservative trend started months ago as a reaction to the fads that were sweeping the market but it is now a sign of the times.

The shortages in wanted fibers and surpluses in the unwanted ones and the high cost of such natural fibers as wool and cotton are bringing major changes in manufacturers. They are turning to blends and less expensive synthetics to try to hold the price line. National Association of Men's Sportswear Buyers (NAMS), in a survey of current marketing trends, found among other things an upsurge of consumer interests in such warm indoor clothes as light and medium weight turtlenecks, flannel shirts, sleeveless V-neck pullover, cardigans, flannel sleepwear, thermal underwear, heavy socks and vests.

The vested suit is getting a boost both from the energy shortage and from fashion, the NAMS found. Designer lines and the forward fashion element in Europe have adopted the vested suit and American clothing manufacturers are moving in the same direction.

There are a number of combinations — such as solid colored pants and vest with a windowpane checked coat against the same solid color background of the pants. In many cases the vests are of different fabrics or patterns but the three piece suit is here — and partly for warmth.

As previously reported, the western look is dominating the youth scene in 1974 with such items as yoked shirts and outerwear and tailored pants with a western fit and pockets. What has been added is the "depression look" — the western clothes in somber colors and little trimming other than elbow patches.

Pants are becoming much slimmer and this reflects not only a change in styles but an attempt to cut down on manufacturing costs. Slim leg pants use 20 percent less fabric than the big flares and bell bottoms. There are fewer cuffs for the same reason, and there are more twills, tweeds and flannels as in the suit market.

A few other NAMS findings: most sportswear manufacturers are adopting the semi-constructed look for sports coats, that is, less padding than before but with enough to preserve the classic look; more conservative shirt fabrics and a close fitting cut but without the ostentatious body-shirt seams; a shorter look in outerwear such as in a baseball jacket or a chief petty officer shirt; and a surplus of boldly patterned polyester double knits has made this a soft market with many stores able to offer bargain prices, mostly at $8 to $10.

Residential maintenance plan nixed by Montclair

A request for immediate drafting of a city residential maintenance ordinance by Councilman Nelson Gentry has been quashed by other Montclair councilmen concerned about residential property rights.

Gentry on Monday asked the city to bypass the Valley Association of Cities — the nine-city group studying remedies for abandoned housing in the Pomona Valley — and draft a maintenance ordinance by the next Montclair City Council meeting.

"Let's forget about the Valley Association of Cities," Gentry said.

A written report from the city administration to the city council Monday stated that the Valley Association of Cities has "expressed concern for enacting measures to require proper maintenance of occupied residential units."

The city is also working on a housing element to its general plan — and the housing element is required by state law to deal with the maintenance of homes, according to the city staff's report.

In addition, the city Planning Commission will be asked to discuss the proposed city maintenance ordinance.

But Gentry asked for immediate action by the city to require improvements on sub-standard Montclair homes.

Gentry maintained that without a maintenance ordinance, the city is not protecting the "constitutional rights" of residents living near deteriorated homes. Gentry said the residents have a right not to have their property devalued by rundown homes in the neighborhood.

Gentry proposed that a set of standards be set out in a maintenance ordinance for Montclair homes.

The councilman later added that Montclair residents unable to pay for improvements could take out a home improvement loan from the residential improvement fund Gentry proposed during the recent municipal election campaign.

However, Gentry's suggestions weren't well-received by other members of the council.

"It's not the government's role to dictate to me how often I should cut my lawn," remarked Councilman Tom McClure.

Mayor Harold Hayes commented that there are "certain areas government can't legislate" — one of those being the "morality" of someone's living circumstances.

Councilman Ernest Rowley criticized Gentry's proposal, stating "a bad ordinance is worse than no ordinance at all."

We have to have something that is usable and enforceable," City Administrator Lauren Wasserman told the council the city staff needs additional time to work on the maintenance ordinance because the city will be "setting legal precedent" by adopting a maintenance ordinance that establishes residential standards.

A determination of the proper levels of home maintenance is quite obviously controversial and involves several rather basic constitutional rights of individual citizens," said Wasserman, reading from the staff report on the maintenance ordinance.

He added that "the additional time taken to research and draft a proper maintenance ordinance may in the long run be beneficial to the city."

Cake class offered

The Ontario Recreation Division has started its spring session of classes for Colony Park Community Center which is located at 1240 W. Fourth St.

Two new classes being offered are bridge lessons, and cake decorating. These classes are offered free of charge to the public.

Cake decorating is meeting Mondays, 9 a.m. to noon, beginning April 15. The bridge class is meeting Mondays, 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., also beginning April 15.

Deputies seek man in stabbing

West End Sheriff's deputies today sought a man who allegedly stabbed an Alta Loma man in an altercation that was the outgrowth of a fight in a Cucamonga bar early Sunday morning.

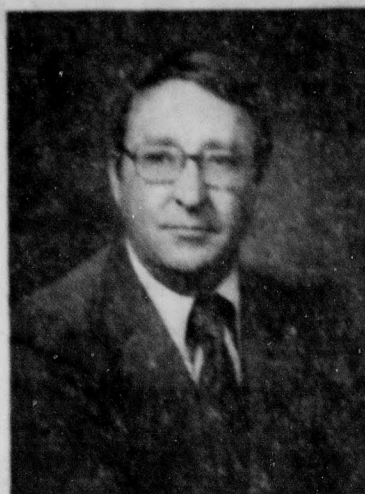

Treated and released at San Antonio Community Hospital was Raul Oliva of 9674 Monte Vista St., Alta Loma.

Sheriff's deputies said Oliva suffered two stab wounds in the left side of the chest and one on top of his head.

The victim told deputies that he had an altercation with a man inside a bar at 10134 Foothill Blvd. When he left the bar the man tried to run him down.

Then, the victim told the deputies, his assailant got out of his car and attacked him with a knife.

Back to racing at OMS

Although the original purpose of Ontario Motor Speedway was bypassed Saturday for the staging of the "California Jam," a rock musical, it will return to its original purpose in May for the two-day Camel GT (Grand Touring) Challenge race, plus the VW Gold Cup Super V series and the Goodrich Radial Challenge event.

Programmed dates are May 18-19, one week after the West Coast inaugural at Laguna Seca.

First in the series is scheduled April 19-20-21 at Road Atlanta.

Although many of the names are "unknown" to the average West End fan, such a driver as Peter Gregg is as much a "superstar" in his phase of automobile racing as are Richard Petty (stock car), A. J. Foyt (championship) and Don "Big Daddy" Garlits in their particular endeavors.

It may seem unfair, but it's a fact that every driver and team in the series coming to OMS will be out to beat Gregg, a foreign car dealer from Jacksonville.

He is the reigning GT champion and will go for a repeat with a '74 Carrera. En route to the title, Gregg posted wins at Sebring, Lime Rock, Indianapolis, Road Atlanta and twice at Daytona.

Gregg discounts his role as a favorite, though, noting that a larger, four-valve engine for the Capri will be homologated. This would give it another 100 horsepower, and the engine was competitive without the extra "horses."

Horst Kwech, who co-drove Harry Theodoropoulos' Capri in last year's Camel GT series, said that Gregg was the driver to beat.

"I don't think that it was easy for him to win the championship last year. He had to work for it. Peter didn't make any mistakes. I'd have to look at him as my number one opposition. Anyone else is going to have to prove it to me first," Kwech noted.

Back to wheel Camaros are Warren Ago, Mo Carter, Gene Felton and Gene Harrington.

Agor and Carter have built new machinery, while Harrington has updated his car to conform to '74 lines.

Felton will continue with the same car which captured last year's "Paul Reverse 250" at Daytona International Speedway.

Agor's co-driver is expected to be Dr. Wilbur Pickett.

A new sight to the '74 Camel GT Series will be the BMW 3-liter CSL. Campaigning cars for Hurtig Team Libra will be John Buffum and Andy Petery.

Two of the new BMW races have also arrived on the West Coast for Vasek Polak, with indications pointing to Don Pike and Milt Minter as the drivers.

Warren Tope, who decided that he'd rather switch than fight, will drive a fuel-injected 1973 Mustang, with the Pantara used as a second car.

Carson Baird, an IMSA champion for the past two seasons, has been busy preparing a former All-American Racer's Barracuda for the Camel GT Series. Baird will use either a "hemi" or 305-cubic inch engine for power.

Mike Keyster, who was nosed out of the championship at the season's finale at Daytona, will be running another Carrera under Ethyl sponsorship. H.L. Mandt, IMSA "mechanic of the year," will again turn the wrenches on the keyser's Toad Hall entry.

Keyster agrees that Gregg's role as favorite is logical, but "it's going to be much tougher on him in '74," Keyster notes. Another Carrera driver, George Stone, agreed that Gregg was the favorite. "He's still the one to beat until somebody else comes up with something better than his Carrera.

Stone will again team with Mike Downs in the Carrera, which earned the pair sixth place in last year's standings. Stone said the car will be updated to '74 specifications.

Bob Bergstrom, the GT under 2.5-liter winner in a Porsche 911S last season, will race a new Carrera this season.

New Carreras have also been purchased by George Dyer and Ludwig Heimrath.

Corvette followers will be placing their bets on John Greenwood. Don't be surprised to see famed United States Auto Club driver Johnny Rutherford to be a co-driver in some longer events that have FIA full international approval.

Tony DeLorenzo, another 'Vette pilot from Greenwood's home town of Troy, Mich., will pilot the Lelton Blackwell Corvette during '74.

Dr. Pickett and Bill Bean drove the car last season, with its best showing taking place in the season's finale at Daytona, when Pickett drove it from a 61st starting spot to fourth in 20 laps.

No wonder the storm signals are aloft for Peter Gregg! Contention runs deep.

Facts you should know . . .

30% of all slain law enforcement officers have been murdered by criminals on parole.

F.B.I. reports indicate 6 out of every 7 criminals are repeaters.

Unconscionable plea bargaining is like trading so many ounces of silver for so many ounces of horror, injury or innocent blood.

A judge must guard against the overuse of "subsidized probation" where the Probation Department receives up to $4,000.00 for each convicted felon who is not committed to state prison, but placed on probation.

Justice delayed is justice denied.

We must take care that turnstile justice doesn't develop which merely recycles non-rehabilitated criminals back into innocent society.

There is an increasing public cynicism which will only be erased when people as a whole are convinced that justice does indeed prevail over legal gamesmanship in the courtroom and punishment does fit the crime.

Baptist wedding

Susan Kay Houtz and John E. Tarascou, both of Alta Loma, were married in March at the Eleventh Street Baptist Church in Upland.

United in the evening candlelight ceremony were the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Houtz of 6042 Beryl Ave., Alta Loma, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Tarascou, 6086 Beryl Ave., Alta Loma.

Honor attendant was Deborah Houtz of Alta Loma, and bridesmaids were Susan Wells of Alta Loma and Brenda Hitt of Montclair.

Standing as best man was Peter Tarascou of Ontario. Ushers were Bill Houtz, Cliff Houtz and Peter Houtz, all of Alta Loma, and John Scanlon of Upland.

Wendy Campbell of Hartland,

Wis., was flower girl, and Mark Tarascou of Alta Loma was the junior usher.

Following the rite, a reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church.

When they returned from a honeymoon to northern California, the newlyweds established a home in Alta Loma.

The bride graduated in 1972 from Alta Loma High School and is enrolled in the radiologic technology course at Chaffey College.

The bridegroom graduated in 1973 from Chaffey College and is a draftsman for Southern California Edison.

Aboard Queen Mary

Local Rotarians at conference

Several local Ontario Rotary Club members traveled to the Queen Mary today to take part in the annual Rotary District 530 conference through Sunday and to host a luncheon in honor of Stanley Warburton, a member of the Ontario club who will become district governor in July.

"We are looking forward to a rewarding three days," said Dale Stewart, Ontario club president. "In a sense it will be a true three-day Rotary cruise," he said, "as all conference functions will be held aboard the ship."

Main speakers for the conference will be Abigail Van Buren, the "Dear Abby" newspaper columnist, Dr. William Benowsky of Pepperdine College, and Dr. David Hubbard of Fuller Theological Seminary.

Included among local Rotarians making the trip are Rene Biane, Thomas Carnesi, Jim Chaffee, Maurice Covington, C. Richard Day, William Deans, A. C. Downing, Dale Eckrote, Morris E. Horly, James Jeffry, J. Lewis Liesch, Richard McElvany, Robert Mohler, Tom Parker, Henry Russell, John Schessler, Ralph Stillings, Harold Stewart, Rudolph Voss and William E. Walk Jr. Their wives will accompany them.

The highlight of the conference for Ontario participants will come during the Friday noon luncheon, which the local club is sponsoring, and at which they will present to the district Rotarians Dr. Warburton, who will become district governor July 1. Warburton is president of Chaffey College.

He is the second Ontario club member to be elected governor. The other is Walk, who served in 1967-68, and who went on to become president of Rotary International.

1974 Easter Seal Campaign

Society's wide scope of services

Most people know the Easter Seal Society is concerned with crippling. But not many people know the many different forms of disability can take besides

Mental health pact extended by supervisors

SAN BERNARDINO — An amendment of the contract with the San Bernardino Mental Health Association to permit extension of the caretaker training program was authorized this week by the county Board of Supervisors.

The amendment increases the amount of the contract by $18,410 and extends the contract to June of this year.

Health Care Services Agency Director Robert E. Russell said funds for the amendment are available within the agency budget.

The amendment provides for the training of approximately 150 additional board and care home operators throughout the county.

those most often symbolized by crutches. The problem is partly due to the development of Easter Seals as a society for helping crippled children to walk. Then, because of this early emphasis and the ready identification it provides, the society's seals (used to symbolize its services in its annual appeal to the public) usually depict children with crutches or braces.

Nevertheless, less than half of the society's caseload are children under 16 and less than half of its services are in the medical-paramedical area. In fact, the society offers 36 services besides physical and occupational therapy.

Screening, evaluation and therapy for speech and hearing disorders are the services Easter Seals provides most frequently. One person speech therapy helped was a young New England father, a businessman, who was stricken with viral encephalitis. It left his speech nearly unintelligible and his voice harsh sounding. Simple words were difficult to mouth. Twice-a-week therapy for three months at his local Easter Seal center, followed by exercises at home, has now made his speech understandable in nearly every instance.

Just as important as meeting such a crisis is identifying and treating infants and young children with developmental delays or birth defects. Physicians send children they suspect of having perceptual problems to Easter Seals for evaluation and therapy. In addition, Easter Seal audiologists and speech pathologists conduct screening programs in grade schools.

Perceptual-motor disorders not only require physical, occupational and speech therapies, but often social and psychological counseling to overcome learning and adjustment problems. Identification of specific learning problems might also require special education in Easter Seal classes to prepare a pre-schooler for successful entry into public school.

Residential and day camping and other recreation programs like parties and sports outings are important to the rehabilitative process. Easter Seals nationwide owns or operates 42 residential camps where handicapped young people learn to enjoy some of the same outdoor activities able-bodied youngsters do in a setting designed for their level of physical abilities. They develop interests and skills they can enjoy independently after camp season and they learn to adapt to social group organization and competition.

Training for activities of daily living (ADL) consists of using devices and equipment set up to teach personal independence. In some Easter Seal centers there is a special room designed as a "model apartment" — sometimes having a bed with a rope attachment so the patient can pull himself up, a closet of clothing redesigned with fastenings and other features to ease dressing problems; a bathroom with grab bars, a kitchen with cupboards at reachable heights, a mixing bowl with a suction base to prevent slipping and special kinds of potato peelers and can openers. The equipment can be purchased or built by the patient at home.

Where an Easter Seal center is not so elaborately equipped, frequently its therapists, nurses or social workers visit the rehabilitated person at home to help with these adjustments.

Vocational evaluation and placement often is an integral part of an Easter Seal program. Take the case of a middle-aged man in Georgia who had been unemployed several years due to an emotional problem. The state's Division of Vocational Rehabilitation referred him to the Easter Seal center, where he underwent a 17-day evaluation and testing period and showed the most skill in mathematics. Bookkeeping seemed to be the kind of work he would be satisfied with and he soon regained enough self-confidence to want to get a job.

The center's job placement specialist learned of a job opening in bookkeeping and the man was sent on a tryout. He qualified and was employed. Follow-up by the Easter Seal center months later found both the man and his employer satisfied.

If placement in the competitive job market isn't possible many Easter Seal societies offer sheltered employment, and a chance to earn a livelihood, through contracts or piece-rate work for local businesses. Homebound handicapped persons also benefit from an Easter Seals program which arranges for sale of their handiwork, sometimes through "homecraft" shops where the products are sold on consignment. In some societies instruction in crafts is part of the homebound program.

Transportation and loan of equipment like wheelchairs and walkers are still other Easter Seal services. Some societies provide transportation for wheelchair-bound persons to medical and rehabilitative services. Others also offer regular outings for shopping and recreation. But working to make public transit systems accessible is a major, long-term goal of Easter Seals.

Wildflower park

California's first Wildflower State Park moved a step closer to reality today with the optioning of 940 acres of the state's best remaining wild poppy fields.

This announcement was made by Joseph M. Long, chairman of the California State Parks Foundation, a conservation agency which is leading the campaign to save the threatened California poppy.

Long said that the Foundation has entered into a purchase agreement with the pioneer Munz family of Antelope Valley in Southern California who holds title to some of the last and the best wild poppy acreage in the state.

The fund-raising campaign was undertaken at the request of the California Department of Parks and Recreation.

Braille book given to county by Sen. Ayala

SAN BERNARDINO — A copy of "Your County Government" in Braille was presented to the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors by State Sen. Ruben S. Ayala Monday.

An Ayala representative said the book was presented to Ayala by Mrs. Pearl Beckley, Ayala's former teacher, and Ayala decided to present it to the county after reading it. Mrs. Beckley said the book was compiled by the Pomona Valley Transcribers Guild, which she founded. She said the organization has transcribed 20 textbooks and even transcribed a set of law books for the first blind attorney to pass the bar in Hawaii. She said he is also the first blind attorney in the United States.

MY NAME IS VICTOR MICHAEL BARBISH

If you love your country, and respect another man's right to worship, then let's fight for what we believe in. "There is enough sickness in this world without having anyone trying to take away our right to worship where and whenever we please! If we want our citizens of the United States to have good morals and respect for each other, let's bring prayer back into the schools, instead of taking it out of the astronaut's Christian message."

PLEASE READ THE FOLLOWING:

THE POWER OF ONE

We are always saying — one person cannot do much to change the world.

But one person, Madeline Murray O'Hare, the atheist crusader succeeded in making it illegal to read the BIBLE or PRAY in public schools.

Now, she has obtained 27,000 signed letters protesting the decision of the astronauts to read the BIBLE as a Christian message to the world from their space craft while orbiting the moon in December, 1968. She plans to present these to NASA with a demand that the astronauts be publicly censured for their act, and further demand to prohibit any further DEMONSTRATIONS OR RELIGION BY PUBLIC LEADERS.

YOU ARE JUST ONE, BUT YOU ARE ONE! YOU CAN DO SOMETHING ABOUT THIS.

An effort is being made to secure 1,000,000 signed letters commending the astronauts for their actions. This would be an overwhelming defeat for Mrs. O'Hare, and a great triumph for religious faith. DO NOT LET HER SUCCEED with her ruling because you did nothing.

HERE IS WHAT YOU CAN DO

1. Sign, and mail, the form letter with this notice. (Be sure that it is filled out completely.)
2. Ask at least five of your friends to sign a similar letter.
3. Detach the letter from the instructions, (tear on line below) and mail the bottom portion only, PLEASE do this simple but important thing.

Dear Sirs:

I personally appreciate and whole heartedly support, the decision of the astronauts to read the BIBLE from their space craft as they orbited the moon during December, 1968. I further support the right of every human being to express his faith in GOD and the BIBLE, publicly without fear of censure.

Mary Montes didn't intend to run for the 35th Congressional District Democratic nomination but hearing the other candidates convinced her. As a member of the Urban Coalition, the 33-year-old Pomona woman participated in interviews with the announced candidates in the 35th district Democratic race.

"There was a missing element among the candidates," she related. "Someone who would push some of the issues we feel are necessary."

As a woman and as a Mexican-American, Mary Montes believes she is "filling a void that needs to be filled" among the Democratic candidates.

"I feel a responsibility to run," she commented.

The taxation system and unemployment are two issues Mary Montes believes "need immediate attention."

"We in the middle class are carrying the tax load," she said. "The wage earners in this country pay $15 billion a year in taxes and the corporation $30 billion."

Corporations are able to take advantage of loopholes allowed by congressmen dependent on the corporations for financial backing, she said.

Mary Montes advocates a larger individual deduction for the average taxpayer, a closing of most of the existing tax loopholes and making the remaining loopholes visible.

"One-quarter of our budget revenue is lost in non-visible tax exemptions," she said.

The amount of tax dollars lost through the farm subsidy program or the oil depletion allowance should be disclosed, she maintained, "so we can take it and weigh it."

Local unemployment could be reduced, Mary Montes stated, by establishing federally funded job training centers that would train the unemployed persons for the types of jobs available on the market. The centers would also train employed people for new types of jobs.

New jobs will be opening up — jobs concerned with "basic human needs" such as transit, health and pollution reduction — and action should be taken locally to place people in those jobs, the candidate said.

"We need a strong program for job development and it has to be done with a high level of competency," she stated.

Efforts to deal with the fuel shortage and the energy crisis are hamstringing for the same reasons there has been no sweeping tax reform, Mary Montes believes.

Congress has failed to regulate the oil companies because the companies are among the largest campaign backers, she asserts. "What is not being clarified for us is why the government can't get its hands on a national energy policy," she said.

The Democratic candidate accused the oil companies of anti-trust violations, of having a lock on all phases of oil production and distribution and reducing competition between companies by sharing information.

On the issue of the Ontario International Airport expansion, Mary Montes stated she is "supportive of the people in the south Ontario area."

"They're the ones who need support — not the airport expansion," she said. "The fear that I have is that the airport will continue to grow and the crises of the people around it will be continual."

She added, though, that she believes compromise is possible between the residents and the proponents of the expansion.

Although she would represent Mexican-American interests in Congress, Mary Montes said her representation would not be "exclusive."

"Everyone," she said, "is facing some of the same problems as the Mexican-American population."

Mary Montes expects to receive her Ph.D. from Claremont Graduate School this year in administrative leadership — the culmination of an education that began in the Pomona schools when she split her time between the classroom and working in the fields as a farmworker.

During her high school years, she worked in a Pomona lemon packing house washing lemons. As a college student at Mt. San Antonio College and UCLA, she worked to put herself through school.

After receiving her master's degree from Cal State University at Los Angeles in urban education, Mary Montes worked in Chino, Pomona and the Claremont Colleges as a teacher, educational consultant and a counselor.

She is completing her education on a fellowship from the Ford Foundation.

ORDINANCE NO. 1829

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF UPLAND AMENDING SECTIONS 2206.3 AND 2206.4 OF THE UPLAND MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO THE SALARIES OF THE CITY COUNCILMEN.

The City Council of the City of Upland does hereby ordain as follows:

SECTION 1: The salaries of the City Councilmen shall be fixed at $150.00 per month in the year of 1960 when Section 2206.3 of the Government Code of the State of California governed the amount of salaries which were to be paid to the City Council according to the population determined by estimates made by the Department of Finance.

The salary schedule is now reflected in Sections 2206.3 and 2206.4, and all references to 2206.3 should be changed to 2206.4.

SECTION 2: Sections 2206.3 and 2206.4 of the Upland Municipal Code are hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 2206.3 — Salaries.

Each member of the City Council shall receive as salary, the sum of $200.00 per month, as prescribed in Section 2206.4 of the Government Code, for cities in the 20,000 up to and including 30,000 population group, which shall be payable from and after the date upon which one or more members of the City Council become eligible thereto by virtue of beginning a new term of office as now set forth in Section 2206.4 of the Upland Municipal Code.

Section 2206.4 — Same: Increase or Decrease.

Following any new and later estimate of population made by the Department of Finance placing the City in a population group other than that set forth in Section 2206.3 above, the salary hereby payable to each member of the Council shall be increased or decreased accordingly to equal the sum prescribed for that population group in Section 2206.4 of the Government Code and subject to the sections of any Government Code as may prescribe the compensation of the councilmen of this City for their respective population group, provided, however, that the salary as so increased or decreased shall become payable only on and after the date upon which one or more members of the Council become eligible thereto by virtue of beginning a new term of office following the next succeeding general municipal election held in the City.

SECTION 3: The Mayor shall sign this Ordinance, and the City Clerk shall attend to the same, and the City Clerk shall cause the same to be published within fifteen (15) days after its passage, at least once in the Upland News, a newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in the City of Upland.
